What started as an idea over a coffee has turned into a global movement – the Print Palooza Print Exchange!

This year, over 160 printmakers from around the world have come together for the Print Palooza. Led by South Australian Sally Caston, the project aims to break down borders and foster creative connections.

The Print Palooza Print Exchange is a platform where printmakers of all levels, backgrounds, and experiences can unite with artists globally. This year's theme, "My Backyard", was chosen so we could showcase the unique elements of backyards that make our homes special to us," Sally said.

Don't miss out next year – register now and join the fun, add some sparkle, and let your creativity really soar!
